Mr. STEWART called up the Senate bill to secure the freedom of the citizens of the States lately in rebellion, and addressed the Senate in reply to Mr. Summer's remarks of yesterday, and controverting the theory that the Southern States are out of the Union and been reduced to a territorial condition. He also argued that the South was not justified in forcing negro suffrage upon the South while they held political rights from negroes in the Northern States.

Mr. WILSON replied at length in favor of the bill.

Mr. SAULSBURY denied that he said the

Mr. WILSON introduced a bill to maintain and enforce the freedom of the inhabitants of the United States, which was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The preamble recites that Congress submitted an amendment of the Constitution providing for the abolition of slavery, and official proclamations had been received that such amendment had been received that such amendment had been ratified by thirty-one out of thirty-four States.

The bill proxides that all laws, ordiritory, recognising the inequalities of equalrights or immunities among the inhabitants, in consequence of race or color, be wind; and rendering it illegal to make or enforce such laws hereafter.

Section 2, Provides that the inhabitants

Section 2, Provides that the inhabitants section 7, revides that the inhabitants of any State, without distinction of color, be entitled to make contracts, our and be sued, testify in courts, purchase or sell real estate, and have equal benefits of all the laws for the security of person and property. Section 3 provides that any person viela-ting the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a missiomeanor and punished by fine and imprisonment. Proceedings under this sec-tion in insurrectionary States may be made in a military court till civil courts are re-established.

ting the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punished by fine and imprisonment. Proceedings under this section in insurrectionary States may be made in a military court till civil courts are recashished.

Section 4 provides that defendants in any suit in any court, who shall claim any right under this act by way of defense, such defendants may remove by petition such suit anto proper District or Circuit Courts.

Mr. WILSON reported in favor of the bill. He combatted the idea that the Democratic party is coming into power, either through the sgency of the President or of anybody else. It must have reconstruction time and other particulars, to prevent fraudzieni and organization before it can govern this country through anybody. He had no fears that the President would separate from the party that elected him, and in which he is bound by honor, by principle and by interest. He has made no issue with Congress, and Congress has made no issue with Congress and Congress has made no issue with the case of regular conditions. By a recent order of dething a country through the conditions of the Congress and Congress has made no issue with the case of regular conditions.
